

wherever we're needed

Media Release

26 April 2016

Aspen Medical to provide healthcare support at key regional summits being held in Papua New Guinea

Canberra-based Aspen Medical has been contracted to provide healthcare support to the Asia-Pacific Economic Co-operation (APEC) Business Advisory Council and the African, Caribbean and Pacific Group of States (ACP) summit, both of which will be held in Port Moresby, Papua New Guinea (PNG). The APEC Business Advisory Council will take place in April and the ACP summit will be held in May and June.

A range of medical professionals from the Aspen Medical Harbour City private healthcare clinic in Port Moresby will be stationed at a medical facility at the National Convention Centre to support delegates at these key regional events. Aspen Medical will also provide all medical equipment and consumables associated with the management of the venue medical clinic. The company's international expertise in providing aero-medical evacuation services will facilitate medivac services from PNG to Australia where Aspen Medical has formal agreements in place with a number of Australian Hospitals.

"Knowing that world class healthcare is being delivered in PNG through the engagement of our team to important events such as these will ensure that even more international events will come to Port Moresby in future," said Glenn Keys, Executive Director and co-founder of Aspen Medical.

Aspen Medical opened its private healthcare clinic in Port Moresby in November 2015. The facility is a joint venture between Aspen Medical and Curtain Bros Papua New Guinea Limited and is located at the Sir Hubert Murray Stadium complex in Konedobu.

The clinic provides a range of healthcare services including primary healthcare, 24/7 emergency healthcare (including house calls and road ambulance), a low dependency ward, medical imaging (such as X ray), pathology, TB checks and pre-employment medicals.

ENDS

For further enquiries please contact:

Jamie Smith, Brand Manager

M +61 (0)455 089 537 E jsmith@aspenmedical.com.au